MIKADO DOES NOT APPROVE STRIKE IN HAWAII

Will Not Tolerate Acts of Lawlessness, Declares Acting Consul Nagai

NO REPLY TO DEMANDS SENT TO WASHINGTON

Young Hot Heads Lead Rioting Is Belief of Local Japanese

"There is nothing in the Honolulu situation, so far as I am advised, to warrant official action either by the Japanese government or by the United States.

"The present disturbance has been caused by a few young hot-heads and does not in any way reflect the real feeling in the islands.

"The Hawaiian police should cope with the situation, and if necessary, arrest every man who engages in a riot or incites a riot. The Japanese government will not tolerate any lawlessness on the part of its people, wherever they may be.

"No appeal for financial aid or moral support has been made to the Japanese in San Francisco so far as I am advised. If such an appeal were made by the Hawaiian Japanese, it probably would be in vain, for there is little or nothing in common between the strikers in Hawaii and the Japanese on the Pacific coast."

Appeal to Ambassador

HONOLULU, June 16.—No reply has been received by the Japanese strikers here to the appeal which the arrested editor of the Japanese newspaper, the Asahi, made to Ambassador Takahira at Washington.

The appeal claimed that the authorities entered the office of the newspaper without due process of law and thereby violated the treaty rights of the four editors now under arrest.

A letter to Takahira setting forth the steps taken by the United Waigao Association and reciting the acts of the authorities complained of in the appeal, is being sent to the ambassador, who will be sent by the Alameda, which leaves this port tomorrow.

In response to appeals called to the Japanese of San Francisco and Seattle, copies have been received by the strikers here of the Japanese strikers' support. All of the messages said that subscriptions have been started.

Arrests Band Strikers

The strike leaders declare that the arrests have solidified the sentiment of the strikers and the whole Japanese community. The Japanese Retail Merchants' Association has reconsidered its resolution favoring a return to work and now favors the continuance of the strike.

It is alleged that many of the Japanese are buying revolvers with the avowed purpose of resist what they term unauthorized seizures.

Not in Sympathy

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—That the Japanese in San Francisco are not in sympathy with the strikers in Hawaii is the stated opinion of the local Japanese leaders.

The seizure of Editor Ngoro's paper, the Jiji, is considered the natural consequence of the strikers' utterances.

At the Japanese Association of North America, Post and Octavia streets, it was stated that no appeal for aid had been made and none was expected. If such an appeal were made it probably would be devoid of effect.

The association is the amalgamated organization of all Japanese bodies in the west. Moreover, the Honolulu dispatches say promise of financial aid has been received from this city.

Ngoro is a graduate of Stanford. He lived in California some time. The plantations are running full blast again, according to a dispatch just received by N. W. Thomas, secretary of the Allied Plantations company, here. Some of the plantations are employing strike-breakers.

Secretary's Statement

According to Mr. Thomas' advice the efforts of the strike leaders and the two editors to make an international affair out of the situation is the expiring gasp of the strike. He says he is informed that the strikers have been so badly beaten in the present trouble that they have taken the reprehensible means of enlisting the two governments.

The laborers work under an agreement whereby they receive from $25 to $40 a month in cash, a house to live in and a small plot of ground to cultivate for themselves. The strike was called to gain for the workmen a contract whereby they were to receive a flat money payment of $30 a month and the other considerations, irrespective of the individual producing capacity. This was refused by the plantations.

Ngoro and his party, it is asserted, in other dispatches from Honolulu, have seriously damaged their chances of getting their dispute taken up as an international affair by ordering a suit for damages in the Hawaiian courts. If there can be no ground for diplomatic intervention, it is said, nothing will be done until after the trial of the case.

It seems that there is only one way in which serious trouble may arise, and that is through the action of the Japanese themselves. If it is proved that the strikers had designs on the government of the islands, it will be a difficult problem to decide what to do.

ATTORNEY A. A. MOORE, IN ARGUMENT, ATTACKS CASE OF THE PROSECUTION

Grills Gallagher, Ridicules Gum-shoe Burns and His Men, and Declares That Calhoun Is Innocent

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—Tearing aside the mask of pretense and the show of heroism that the boodles Supervisors have attached to themselves in giving testimony against Patrick Calhoun, Attorney A. A. Moore this morning, in his closing argument for the defense, characterized them as perjurers, scoundrels, grafters and informers.

The spies of the gum-shoe brigade of Special Agent William J. Burns came in also for their share of the sarcastic yet humorous oratory of the leading counsel for Calhoun, and, in no uncompromising terms, John H. Helms and Nicholas Korngold, were held up as a sample of the prosecution's witnesses.

The attorney maintained that there was not a single witness, barring the mint officials and the bankers, who was not either a self-confessed criminal or a hired spy in the employ of William J. Burns.

The evidence compiled by the prosecution and belatedly up in the address of Assistant District Attorney O'Garra, was torn to tatters and deprived of its importance by the words of Moore, who contended in logical argument and a conservative method of discourse that there was not a shred of evidence against the defendant at the bar.

By a process of elimination, he forcibly demonstrated that scarcely a half dozen of the witnesses had mentioned Calhoun's name at all in connection with the case and laying stress upon the statement of each one of these he showed that there was nothing incriminating at all or indeed anything to cast the slightest suspicion upon Calhoun in their testimony.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—Confounding and confounding the opposing counsel with the avalanche of sparkling, brilliant satire and stinging sarcasm which he poured like a deluge into the ears of the jury in the Calhoun trial, Attorney Moore pleaded in behalf of the defendant this morning.

Running along so smoothly in an even tone of voice which was scarcely ever raised above the conversational tone, counsel brought home point after point, almost always by means of a question which he would not be able to answer by Special Prosecutor Heney in his argument.

The delightful humor of the address, combined with its power and the logic of its conception and delivery, could not but have a potent effect and a pronounced influence in the minds of the jury, aside from interesting the spectators in a way seldom witnessed in a court proceeding.

Attorney Moore reviewed the so-called graft prosecution in scathing terms, and seldom have they been brought into the light in more unfavorable state than they were placed by the defendant's counsel as he launched forth his tirade of epithets against the gum shoes and spies of the Burns' brigade, and criticized the "speckles' private prosecution, and the causes which led up to its formation.

Society Present

Such a record-breaking audience as appeared before 9 a. m. at the entrance to Carpenters' Hall, waiting to secure a seat, has never been equaled in any other so-called graft trial during the last year. And society was on hand, too, in full force.

Many of the members of the warrent occupied the seats reserved for them and of these a goodly number were members of the family and friends of Mr. Calhoun and his counsel and associates.

Attorney Moore began his speech promptly at 10 a. m. When he had concluded last evening he had been charged to O'Garra's point that the defense had failed to call General T. L. Ford to the witness stand.

Didn't Call Ruff

"They could have called General Ford themselves," he began, "if they had chosen to have done so. They did call Mr. Mulhally, Mr. Mulhally was under many indictments as Mr. Calhoun. He has fifteen or seventeen indictments against him, and yet testified without protest, although himself a defendant."

"Mr. Abbott was also called, although he has rested under a number of indictments for a long time. He is yet a young man with his career perhaps largely before him. He has a whole hatful of indictments against him, yet he testified without demurring. They knew that Ford would have testified if called. Why didn't they call Ruff?"

MRS. GOULD MANY TIMES DRUNK, SAY SERVANTS

Florist Testifies That He Saw Accused Woman Stagger Against Archway

TESTIMONY STRONGLY IN HUSBAND'S FAVOR

Declare Her Language to Her Employes Wouldn't Stand Repeating

NEW YORK, June 15.—Evidence to justify Howard Gould in separating from his wife, Katherine Clemmons Gould, was presented again today in the hearing of her suit for separation and alimony.

Most of this evidence bore upon the conduct of Mrs. Gould at her home, Castle Gould, on Long Island, where Gould alleged and servants testified, that Mrs. Gould had made much use of intoxicants as to cause Gould to absent himself and refuse to return except upon assurance that his wife would refrain from humiliating him before his friends.

To Combat Testimony

Mrs. Gould has asserted that no prominent society woman's reputation is safe in the hands of her servants. If their testimony is to be accepted against her, and their testimony in this case will be rebutted.

Mrs. Gould came into court today attired as usual in black and sat at the counsel table near Clarence J. Shearn, her attorney. When Gould entered he walked rapidly to a chair next to Deshaunce Nicol, his counsel, and busied himself looking over some papers. There was no sign of regretation on the part of either the plaintiff or the defendant.

Many Women Present

Curiously to hear the testimony of Howard Gould, when he should take the witness stand in his own defense, brought a throng of people to the courtroom. A large number of women were present. Although Mrs. Gould kept her veil over her face she peered at the witnesses attentively.

Harry Turner, a florist at Castle Gould, was the first witness called, and told of several occasions when he had seen Mrs. Gould at the estate decidedly intoxicated. In his opinion, at one time, in July, 1906, he said she came out into the garden and upbraided him and appeared greatly excited and excited. She reeled against an archway, he said, and was evidently under the influence of intoxicants.

At another time, the witness said, he was summoned to the office of the estate. Mrs. Gould was there and asked him if he was "the waiter." Although he said she had seen him often about the estate and knew his position well. She kept repeating that she was Mrs. Howard Gould, he said, and appeared greatly excited and excited. She reeled against an archway, he said, and was evidently under the influence of intoxicants.

Had Seen No Drinking

On cross-examination by Shearn the witness said he had never seen Mrs. Gould drink any liquor and there were several other employees of the estate in the office when he saw her there and she was not drinking. He did not remember her at all, the witness said, except that she was Mrs. Gould and some one would "get it quick."

"When she kept repeating she was Mrs. Gould, don't you remember that she said it? Connection with complaining that you already refused to obey her orders and were not affording her the proper attention as servants?" asked Shearn.

The witness said he did not remember that.

"Don't you remember anything she said about not being allowed to use her horses and the coach and four?" asked Shearn.

"No," replied the witness. William Wyssong, a native of Point Washington, who worked on the Gould estate in 1902 and 1903, testified that he saw Mrs. Gould intoxicated once in the spring of 1902 or 1903. Mrs. Gould, he said, walked down the road near the castle and he heard her call loudly to Murphy, the omnibus driver, the witness said, and call Murphy an objectionable name. The witness said he thought she was intoxicated at the time.

Twice Drunk He Says

Gus Wright, a clerk with a pronounced English accent, said he had seen Mrs. Gould intoxicated on two occasions at Castle Gould. He was employed by Reinhold Carlson, who was employed at Castle Gould in 1904 and 1905 as head coachman, told of many incidents when, in his opinion, Mrs. Gould was under the influence of liquor. In October, 1905, the witness said, she wandered out in a carriage and had him drive her about the estate.

"She could not sit steady in the seat," said Carlson. "Several times I took the reins in my right hand and placed my left arm back of her to keep her from falling out of the carriage. We drove about two miles and returned to the house. Her face was badly flushed and her breath smelled of liquor, and she was clearly intoxicated."

Through Closed Gate

Reinhold Carlson, formerly coachman at Castle Gould, said Mrs. Gould on one occasion tried to drive through a gate, although it was closed. The witness said she once asked the lodgekeeper if he had a revolver. "He told her he had," said Carlson, "and she ordered him to go down to the gate."

LITTLE LAD SHOOTS MAN WHO INSULTS HIS MOTHER

Descendant of Irish Kings To Begin Suit for Famous $4,000,000 Sublette Estate

Mrs. Louisa Ward. Mrs. T. O'Neill Wheeler.

Heirs to the Famous Sublette Estate of St. Louis.

With all the legal counsel that wealth can procure, Mrs. Theresa O'Neill Wheeler of this city and her two sisters, Mrs. May F. Bell of Seattle and Mrs. Louisa Ward, who claim they are heirs to the famous Sublette estate of St. Louis, will contest for the remnants of the $27,000,000 estate left by William. Milton and Solomon Sublette, who were founders of the Rocky Mountain Fur Company and successors of Lewis & Clark, the explorers. The estate is now valued at about $3,000,000 or $4,000,000.

The litigation has been pending for many years and will be revived in the Supreme Court at St. Louis in December, when Mrs. Wheeler and her two sisters will go East to secure, if possible, some part of the wealth.

It is understood that the estate consists of 500 acres of the richest property in St. Louis.

Mrs. Theresa O'Neill Wheeler is the daughter of the late Captain John Falls O'Neill, who married Mary Ann Sublette of Kentucky in 1827. Mrs. Wheeler claims that she is a descendant of the O'Neills, who were kings of Northern Ireland. She is the last of the O'Neills and the possessor of the crest and seal of the family. The coat of arms was dubbed by James F. the "Red Hand of Erin."

VICTIM ATTEMPTS TO CONCEAL SHOOTING

Lad Is Placed Under Arrest Pending Result of the Injuries

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—To protect his mother from the insults of an intoxicated man, 14-year-old William Connolly shot and probably fatally wounded John A. Fennell last Monday morning, the shooting having occurred in front of the store owned by Mrs. Connolly at 37 Midway place, Colma.

The shooting was brought to light last evening when Detectives Burke and Gallagher, detailed to investigate the case of John Fennell, who applied for treatment of a gun shot wound yesterday afternoon at the City and County Hospital, claiming that he had accidentally shot himself, discovered the above related facts were the true cause of Fennell's condition.

Insults Woman

According to the detection, Fennell, who lives at Glen Park, visited Mrs. Connolly's place of business and caused a disturbance. He was ordered away, but instead of leaving he insulted Mrs. Connolly.

Then the boy rushed into the store, and raising his arm against that of Fennell, who is a large man, shouted that he would throw him out if he would not leave immediately.

With a curse, Fennell threw the boy to the floor. The youngster, in his feet again in an instant, and rushing to the rear of the store, secured a revolver and fired two shots at his assailant.

The drunken man reeled from the place and disappeared. Neither Mrs. Connolly nor her son believed that the fellow had been hurt, and in a short time forgot about the incident.

Twice Wounded

This morning Detectives Gallagher and Burke appeared at the house and took young Connolly into custody. Fennell was shot in the abdomen and left shoulder.

After wandering about the entire night, he applied at the hospital on Tuesday, and the police were put on the case. His wounds are serious and he may not recover.

The boy will be held pending the outcome of Fennell's injuries.

Taft Proposes A Tax OF 2 PER CENT ON THE NET INCOME OF CORPORATIONS

Would Add $65,000,000 to Treasury and Give Federal Supervision of Accounts and Transactions of Companies.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Recommending a two per cent tax on the net income of corporations and the adoption of an amendment to the constitution providing an income tax today sent to Congress a message embodying his views on the subject. The President speaks of the apparent inability of Congress to agree to an inheritance tax, and as regards an income tax he refers to the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Pollock vs. the Farmers' Loan & Trust Company, which the court held to be unconstitutional unless apportioned according to population.

"It is," says the President, "undoubtedly a power which the government ought to have. It might be indispensable to the nation's life in a great crisis.

The amendment suggested provides for the imposition on all corporations and joint stock companies for profit, except national banks (otherwise taxed), savings banks and building and loan associations, of a tax of two per cent on the net income of said corporations.

Tax on Corporations

The President points out that another merit to the tax on corporations is the federal supervision, which will give the government, the stockholders and the public knowledge of the real business transacted.

The message was brought into the senate while Senator Burton was speaking. Senator Root, being in the chair, ordered the reading of the document as soon as the Ohio senator ceased speaking.

When the report of the measure was

ALAMEDA, June 16.—Protesting that the improvement of Encinal avenue did not comply with the provisions of the charter, J. L. Park appeared before the City Council last night representing property owners of that district. Park claims that the assessment should have been made by districts. Park contends that the street superintendent should make the assessment if it exceeds fifty per cent of the assessed valuation of property.

City Attorney Simpson in reply stated that there was no provision of law for the formation of an assessment district and he recommended to the council that the protest had no legal merit in the objection.

Park replied that he would be compelled to bow to the opinion of the city attorney, and that his clients would be obliged to seek recourse by other legal proceedings. The objection of Park's clients was overruled by an unanimous vote.

The approval of the Council was given for the making of a residential park of the Dunn tract.

The protest of E. B. Mott, relative to the construction of sewer on Encinal avenue, was set for hearing July 6.

Fowell Brothers were granted the right to enter into private contract with property owners for the improvement of Court street.

The report of work on Johnson avenue was received and ordered filed.

Report of the completion of improvement on Blanding avenue was received and filed.

Water Rates Fixed

The adoption of the fixing of water rates was read and approved, with the exception of a suggestion from Councilman Bullock, who included in the report the actual reading of the meter to be governed by the motion as a whole.

The mayor was asked to appoint a committee, including himself as a member of the same, to investigate the widening of the street at Sherman street and Central avenue, owing to the fact that accidents have been frequent, and that as now the railroad is broadening it would be opportune to take the matter up.

The matter of an application for a franchise by the Worden & Meeker Company for wharves, docks and the collection of tolls at the foot of Oak street was referred to the city attorney.

On motion of Councilman Krumb it was ordered that the city clerk communicate with the Board of Supervisors, asking them to build cement bulkheads at both ends of the Bay Farm Island bridge.

Water Supply Again

J. H. Bruns made a protest to the city council that this body should regulate the levying of visiting produce men and urged that the license collector be instructed not to ask for tax licenses from those who merely enter the town to deliver one consignment of goods.

The council is to investigate the matter. A communication from the Chamber of Commerce, asking that the water supply be investigated, was favorably acted upon. The council voted to appoint an expert chemist to render a report on the nature of the water supplied to the city. The limit of expense is set at $100.

The matter of providing funds for the carrying of shade trees in the city was referred to the finance committee. Communications were received from the Alameda Improvement Club, the East End Improvement Club and the North End Improvement Club, asking the Council to aid in the maintenance of the trees.

STRIKE TIES UP WORK ON DOE LIBRARY

Union Men Quit When State Employees Begin Wiring and Steam Fitting

CONSTRUCTION IS NOW
BROUGHT TO STANDSTILL

Regents May Be Called in Special Session to Consider Problem

BERKELEY, June 16.—Refusing to continue work if any non-union men were employed, seventy-five workmen on the new Doe library at the University of California laid down their implements and "walked out" yesterday afternoon.

The non-union men were employed by the State to do the wiring and steam fitting on the building, and the construction work is now at a standstill. The electricians and steamfitters are men employed throughout the entire year at the University under the directions of C. L. Cory, professor of electrical engineering and director of the electric light and power plant on the campus, and dean of the college of mechanics.

These men, as employees of the State, are not union men. When they were instructed yesterday to report for work at the new library building under the direction of Building Inspector George B. Sturgeon, the other workmen promptly gave notice that, if the men were put to work, they would immediately go on strike.

Wiring Must Go On

It is not known that the State will persist in keeping the non-union men at work on the building, but the subcontractors have stated that it is necessary for the wiring and electrical work to be finished before any progress can be made on the structure. There is a great deal of this sort of work to be done and a limited number of men that can be secured for the electrical work so that the strike comes at a very inopportune time. The authorities have expressed themselves as believing that the strikers are a little unreasonable in their demands, for the work must be done and electricians, they state, cannot be secured.

The strike claims that the electricians employed by the State receive about 25 per cent less than the union scale, but argue that this would make no difference, and that they will walk out if any but union men are employed.

Regents May Meet

The regents will not meet in regular session until next August, but it is probable that a special meeting will be called to consider the tie-up. The strikers say that the only way that the regents will be able to handle the matter is to sublet the wiring and steamfitting to a firm employing union labor.

TO INSTALL SALT WATER FIRE PUMP

System to Be Adopted in Alameda Through Offer of Dow Company

ALAMEDA, June 16.—The acquisition of a salt water system for the better protection of the business district from fire was taken up by the City Council, and the gratuitous offer of the Dow Pump Works to present a pump for the use of the city received support.

The Dow Pump Works offered to give to the city of Alameda a line on Oak street, which lies parallel to Park street, the main avenue, free of charge. The matter has been investigated by a committee of the City Council, and has been found feasible, and in all probability will be accepted.

It is argued that the installation of a salt water plant will save the city about five per cent. The Dow pump has already been installed and it only remains for the testing of the apparatus which is efficiency, which test will be made in the near future.

In addressing the council last night, Alexander Mackie, a prominent citizen of this city, said:

"This is the greatest thing that Alameda has ever had offered to it. This salt water plant, which includes a fire protection, is the most important thing that Alameda has ever known. The installation will save the merchants of the city five per cent on their fire protective taxes, as well as serve as a benefit to the city for sprinkling and flushing purposes."

The council is to appoint a committee to look into the matter, and it is probable that very soon a new protective salt water fire source will be installed.

ELKS ARE PREPARING FOR TRIP TO SOUTH

ALAMEDA, June 16.—About two hundred and fifty Elks from this city will make the journey to Los Angeles to attend the grand convention to be held in the southern city, and preparation is being made by the Alameda delegation for a stay of two weeks in the south.

Past Exalted Ruler Fred Moore has been appointed by the Alameda lodge delegate to the convention and William Hammond Jr. is the alternate.

A private Pullman will convey the travelers to the south, leaving Park street on the morning of Saturday, July 10. The convention opens on Monday, July 12.

DROP CHARGES OF THEFT AGAINST NURSE

WOODLAND, June 16.—Miss Florence Niles, the trained nurse who was arrested here several months ago on a charge of petty larceny following the disappearance of several articles from the local hospital, will not be tried. The charge against her has been dismissed on motion of the District Attorney.

COMPLAINTS AS TO OPENING OF ATLANTIC AVENUE TO BE INVESTIGATED

System of Assessment Strongly Objected To

Proposal Made to Bond City as Whole and Not Individuals

ALAMEDA, June 16.—The protesting property holders who object strenuously to the opening of Atlantic avenue, the so-called new boulevard, appeared before the City Council last night and not only alleged that the Council had erred in the placing of assessments, but also claimed that residents along the proposed route would be driven from their homes in the event of the opening of the street.

The property affected lies between Pacific avenue on the south, Grand street on the east and extending westerly to San Francisco bay. The property owners, through their champions, represented that the opening of the proposed boulevard would be greatly detrimental to their interests, as property holders and asked the council to reconsider. They asked that the city be compelled to pay for the assessment and not levy the tax of the opening of the proposed boulevard upon the holders of real estate as individuals.

Herman Dreist, representing the property owners said:

"You will drive us from our homes if you attempt to assess us for the opening of this boulevard. Let the city pay for the improvement and let the property owners, who are willing to see the city advance and will do all in our power to aid in its progress, but as for assessing us for the opening of this street, we protest strongly."

Bond the City

H. A. Lawlor, another of the protesters, said: "We protest against the opening of this street, as is laid out on the scheme of assessment. Instead of bonding by assessment on the fronting property owners, bond the city as a whole. We do not object to improvement, but we do object to the assessment on personal property, thus making the owners pay for what the city as a whole receives the benefit. As this proposition is now, we, the property owners, will be obliged to ride in chaises while those who obtain the benefit will ride in automobiles."

W. F. Schulte, in expressing his protest said:

"This so-called boulevard is a hardship to small homes. The owners of the small homes will be obliged to pay when the burden should be upon the citizens at large. The right of way of a railroad on Atlantic avenue will of necessity deteriorate the value of property. Eventually, of course, the railroad must come. At the present time it would be detrimental to all the property owners concerned. The whole city should be taxed and not the property owner. I have made a survey and know of no property owner who has signed in favor of the proposed new boulevard. I understand that the street superintendent introduced the proposition. I ask that the council reconsider and make the district of assessment that of the whole city of Alameda."

Council Will Investigate

On motion of Councilman Krumb, seconded by Councilman Walker, the matter was referred until July 13, when the committee to ascertain the cost of the opening of the street both to the city and to the property owners.

Lawlor was on his feet as soon as this motion had passed and he stated that the vision that Mayor Noy appoint his committee to ascertain the cost of the opening of the street both to the city and to the property owners.

"Such a bid is a joke," said Richardson, "and if the Reporter can afford to do the work for that price it is evident that the paper is in a poor condition. Their circulation is so small that I do not believe that they can be considered legitimate bidders for town printing. I regard their bid as a joke. It has been rumored that the sheet would cease publication on July 1, and it was probably on this account that such a bid was submitted."

Frank Hull, speaking for the Reporter, said that the Reporter submitted the lowest bid and have complied with all of the requirements stated in the advertisement for bids. We have handled the town printing for the last year and have proven satisfactory. I believe that the Reporter's circulation is as large as that of any paper in this town. Our bid is not a joke and I do not see how you can award the contract to another, in view of these facts."

Private Discussion

It was decided to lay the matter on the table, and the trustees will discuss the awarding of the contract in an executive session, prior to their next meeting on June 29.

The protest against the installing of a corrugated iron culvert over the creek that crosses Ender avenue at Tenth street, which has been before the trustees for four months, was overruled.

A communication was received from the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce asking that the trustees use their influence in having the Federal government place ordnance sheds and treasuries on the various islands in San Francisco bay. The matter was taken under advisement and the clerk ordered to communicate with the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, stating that the trustees would do all in their power to have the request granted.

The communication from the Master Plumbers' Association, requesting the privilege of filing personal bonds with the Berkeley trustees was deferred until July 1.

Ordinances Passed

The final passage of the following ordinances was unanimously voted upon:

Establishing street grades on Spaulding avenue, from the northern line of Dwight street to the southern line of Addison street.

Closing Park path, from Oak Ridge path to Rolfe road, and that portion of Rolfe road not now included within the present boundaries of the Tunnel road, in the town of Berkeley.

Authorizing and directing a contract by the town of Berkeley with Library Branch, for the purchase of a Berthel and Hing printing equipment.

Closing Grant street, in the town of Berkeley, from the western line of Millbra street to the eastern line of Grant street.

General resolutions ordering the following street work be passed at last night's meeting:

Approving and confirming commissioners' report on the opening of Bolde street, from its present terminus to Harmon street.

Approving and confirming commissioners' report on the opening of Mathews street, between Bolde street and the line of Bolde street.

Repealing resolution of intention for grading curbing, macadamizing, etc., Parker street, from California street to McGee avenue. (Private contract.)

Repealing resolution of intention for a concrete culvert in Oregon street, near Grant street. (Objections sustained.)

The contents consist of stories, poems, reviews of the activities of the year, incidents of school and class life.

SEVEN FIREMEN ARE PROMOTED

Newspaper Publishers Have Lively Discussion Over
Contract for Printing

BERKELEY, June 16.—Seven new men, one for each company, were added to the Berkeley fire department by the Berkeley trustees at last night's meeting. The following promotions were made in the department: Lieutenant G. Creed of No. 1 company, promoted to captain; Fireman Knudsen, promoted to lieutenant in No. 4 company; Lieutenant D. Stone, of No. 6 company, promoted to captain; Fireman S. Kenney to lieutenant in No. 6 company.

Bids were opened for the municipal printing, the lowest being submitted by the Berkeley Reporter, the Berkeley Daily Gazette next. Although the Reporter bid was less than one-sixth of that submitted by the Gazette, Friend William Richardson besought the trustees to accept the Gazette bid, claiming that the Reporter's bid was a joke.

It has been submitted as low as it has been, proof that the concern was not a responsible one to give publicity to town advertisements.

Frank Hull, speaking for the Reporter, said that the Reporter submitted the lowest bid and have complied with all of the requirements stated in the advertisement for bids. We have handled the town printing for the last year and have proven satisfactory. I believe that the Reporter's circulation is as large as that of any paper in this town. PARKS TO HAVE OWN WATER SUPPLIES

Well Struck and Commissioners Will Install Plant on Washington Grounds

GOOD FOR DRINKING
AND IRRIGATION USE

Other Sites Will Be Bored and Great Saving Made to City

ALAMEDA, June 16.—A well, 165 feet, 11 inches deep has been struck by the Park Commissioners in Washington Park and steps will be taken immediately to install a tank and frame to hold the water from the artesian well.

"The water came upon the well when they were working in the park," said President F. N. Delano. "I have always known there was water there and all over Alameda, and Washington, McKinley and Lincoln park. Will have their own water supplies."

The water in Washington Park will be utilized for drinking and irrigation purposes and Delano says that when the park is fully developed 25,000 gallons a day would be taken from the well for drinking and irrigation.

The supply is said to be inexhaustible and the purest and clearest quality of water that can be obtained anywhere.

Delano has already obtained figures on the cost of boring the well and drains and $717.00 will cover the expense of installing a tank and pumping equipment.

"The cost of digging the well will amount to $317.50, the tank and frame will cost $200, and $200 more will have to be expended on the pumping outfit and motor," said Delano.

"The cost to the city for water for the park for a year would probably amount to thousands of dollars and the discovery of the well will be a material saving of city funds."

All of the parks in the city will be provided with their own supply of water within the next few months. Funds for making the wells will undoubtedly be appropriated by the city council. The wells in Lincoln Park supplied the whole city with water at one time and in 1891 in McKinley Park was used when the family of Judge James A. Waymire occupied the residence.

Rev. Otto Irelan Given Reception at South Berkeley Christian Church

BERKELEY, June 16.—The Rev. Otto Irelan, formerly pastor of the Twenty-fourth street Christian church of San Francisco, has been appointed pastor of the South Berkeley Christian Church, succeeding the Rev. I. J. Teel, transferred to Ukiah. Pastor Irelan preached his initial sermon Sunday night and was welcomed by a large congregation.

The Rev. Teel succeeded the Rev. Jesse M. Hunter, who in turn was transferred to Hollywood in Los Angeles county, and who some days ago started some racy gossip by it. TO MAKE PUBLIC PIPE LINE PLANS

Oil Men State That Names of Financial Backers Will Soon Be Announced

BAKERSFIELD, June 16.—At the first meeting of the directors of the Producers' Transportation Company, held at the office of L. P. St. Clair, in this city, St. Clair was elected president and M. V. McQuigg of Los Angeles was elected temporary secretary.

The most important announcement in connection with the meeting is that at the next gathering of the stockholders of the pipe-line project, together with the identity of the financial backers, will be made public, and the executive committees of the two agencies will also be prepared to lay before the stockholders their plans for marketing the oil of the agencies after it has been carried to the points of distribution.

Quite as much interest and importance will attach to these plans as to the original announcement that the pipe line was to be built. In fact, as the marketing of the oil is of much more importance than the mere transportation, it may be said that the most interesting chapter of the story is yet to come.

LABOR TO HOLD BIG CELEBRATION

Unions on Both Sides of Bay to Unite at Shellmound Picnic

There has never been a day of similar organizations on the other side of the bay. It seems, however, that even over there harmony at last has been reached and no better proof of this fact could be had than the fact that on Labor Day of this year there will be only one labor procession on the other side of the bay.

Henceforth, there have been two demonstrations on that day in the name of labor. These displays, while in themselves showing that those taking part in them were earnest and devoted to labor, at the same time showed a lack of harmony when the matter of unification of thought among union men was taken into consideration.

The organizations at variance were the Building Trades Council and the Central Labor Council. The former is devoted to the trades which wholly engaged in structural work, while the latter represents a multiplicity of industries outside those which are engaged in the building business.

Labor Invited

On the first Monday of next September, when there will be a grand celebration of Labor Day on the other side of the bay, the unions composing those councils, instead of joining in a parade of their own, will march in the same column, showing that labor is united in the matter of showing its numerical strength and its moral force.

This is the first time that a display of unionism in San Francisco.

There is a significance in this matter for the reason that the unions on this side of the bay will be indirectly interested in that celebration, at least so far as the program for the afternoon is concerned. For years past the Building Trades Council of San Francisco has been holding picnics on the afternoon of Labor Day at Shellmound Park. They were the originators of the scheme and, on the forthcoming Labor Day, there will be associated with them not only the unions of the Central Labor Council of San Francisco, but also the Building Trades Council and the Central Labor Council of this city and county.

Accept Invitations

Both of the local organizations referred to have been the recipients of invitations from the Building Trades Council in San Francisco to take part in the gathering and the invitations have been accepted.

More than that, the Building Trades Council of San Francisco has placed it within the power of the local organizations to derive a revenue for their own use from the outing.

The Building Trades Council of San Francisco will bear all the expenses of the outing, so far as the grounds, the music and other incidentals are concerned and will give to the Building Trades Council and the Central Labor Council of this city whatever they may make in the selling of tickets for the picnic among their friends on this side of the bay.

It is known that the councils referred to in this vicinity can dispose of thousands of tickets and it may, therefore, be understood how liberal is the act of the unions of San Francisco toward the organizations on this side of the bay.

Joint Committee

There has been a joint committee appointed by the councils in San Francisco for the purpose of making arrangements for the great picnic referred to and the representatives of the local Central Labor Council on that committee is as follows: A. M. Thompson, H. B. Andrews, S. J. Mathews, William Heyne, C. J. Curran and R. H. Fuhrman.

Favor Parade

Both the Building Trades Council and the Central Labor Council are receiving a referendum vote of the several unions which are associated with them, on the question as to whether or not there ought to be a procession in which both ought to take part on Labor Day, the first Monday in next September.

Thus far about ten of the unions affiliated with the Central Labor Council have voted on the proposition and a majority of them have voted in favor of the parade.

The Central Labor Council has reduced the number of members on the committee on the Union Workmen's Orphanage from ten to five for the reason that the committee of the Building Trades Council on the same work has only five members.

As both committees have to confer on the subject, it was deemed advisable to have them of the same numerical strength. The committee of the Central Labor Council is now stands as follows:

HAVE YOU HEARD HIM?

If Not—It's Your Own Fault. He's at the Bell.

You have a phonograph in your house, perhaps. Most every one does nowadays and you just love to put on one of these old love songs, the kind our daddies and granddaddies used to sing when they courted our dear old mummies and grandmummies. There's a certain melody, a sort of pathos in these songs that brings the dear drops occasionally, even through the mechanical rendering of the phonograph. You've sat by the hour and enjoyed the records of Will Oakland, one of the greatest contralto singers in the world. You've often said: "My, how I would like to hear him in the original," so to speak.

Now the opportunity is present. Will Oakland is singing those same heart-warming songs, you've so admired at the Bell Theater this week. Everybody is talking about him and you should seize this opportunity of hearing him. He is the feature of an exceedingly good bill. Next week the Bell Theater has the strongest program it has ever presented. Six big numbers and four of these are headline features. The best that money can secure is seen in the weekly bills at the Bell—always an entire change and that in a measure counts for the great popularity of this theater.

To Give Ball

Next Saturday night there will be a grand ball given by Golden Gate Lodge, No. 12, of the Junior Order of United Mechanics in the old Reliance Club building at the corner of Seventeenth street and San Pablo avenue. The lodge in question is composed of young men who are apprenticed to the machinist trade in Alameda county. They are all bright, intelligent and gentlemanly youths and many of them have shown special aptness for the trade to which they are applying themselves. Their lodge is one of the few organizations of the kind in this county.

In the machinists' trade there is an understanding that there shall be allowed one apprentice to every five journeymen. There are about five hundred machinists in the local union and all of these are employed in shops mainly in this city and, as a consequence, there are about 100 apprentices and all of the latter are allied in the organization which is to give the ball next Saturday night.

To Elect Delegates

There has been a special called meeting of Machinists' Union, No. 284, for Tuesday night, June 28, for the purpose of electing a delegate to the national convention of the organization which is to be held in Denver on the first Monday in September of this year. There is quite an amount of rivalry for the distinction of representing the machinists of this section in that gathering. Among the aspirants for the place are N. C. McGill, Alex. Campbell and Alexander Calmes.

Barbers to Close

The Barbers' Union has decided that the shops in which the members are engaged will be closed on Monday, July 1, in honor of the day which the anniversary of national independence will be celebrated, because the Fourth of July falls on Sunday.

The election of a delegate to the national convention of the organization will take place at the first meeting of local union to be held in July. Ben Litzenstein, who has been the secretary and general representative of the organization for many years, is a candidate for the distinction.

Discuss Laws

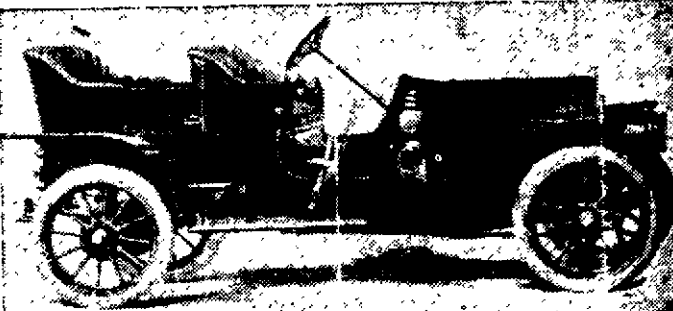

At the last meeting of the local Barbers' Union there was a debate as to whether the laws now in force governing the journeymen barbers in their relations to the master barbers were right or wrong. The discussion was a very interesting one for the reason that both sides were espoused by members of the organization, as also because there were a number of master barbers present.

It is needless to say that those who espoused the righteousness of the rules now in force were victorious and the victory was all the more appreciated by reason of the fact that, after the discussion had been brought to a close, the master barbers who were in attendance declared that the showing in favor of the existing rules was based on good grounds.

STABBED IN FIGHT.
Harry Stanley of 715 Twelfth street, a cabinetmaker, became involved in an altercation last evening at the corner of Fourteenth and West streets with a stranger and a fight ensued. Finding that he was getting the worst of the fight, Stanley drew a knife and slashed Stanley on the left forearm. Then the cabinetmaker ran in one direction, which ultimately brought him up at the Receiving Hospital, and the stranger in the other.

"THIS IS THE GOOD CONSTRUCTION CAR"

Any automobile that is trying to get a reputation on any other foundation than that of thorough mechanical construction will not stand the test of time.

For the money, the just as good as the Cadillac Thirty is not made. This is not an assertion, it is a fact and you know what facts are. You will not be satisfied until you have investigated—then you'll know why you want a Cadillac Thirty.

The Cadillac Thirty is not an assembled proposition and it is not a new proposition. It is made in its entirety, down to the bolts and screws, under one roof, which covers one of the most scientific automobile plants in the world, and which has produced more automobiles than any other factory in existence.

We would be making a serious mistake to make these statements if your inspection and trial of the car did not bring you to the conclusion that we are right.

Sane Fourth of July.

We are once more approaching the national natal anniversary and the cry for a saner method of celebrating it is renewed and spreads all over the land. The Chicago Tribune has been for many years the leader of the movement for the abandonment of the barbarous means of celebrating the Fourth of July represented in the indiscriminate use of fireworks and explosives whereby hundreds are killed and maimed annually. That paper and the Journal of the American Medical Association have made a point for several years to gather statistics of the killed and wounded on the nation's holiday, and the results are appalling.

The record grows yearly. But these two publications have been the means of enlisting many of the more influential newspapers and magazines of the country in the task of influencing the people to adopt a more harmless method of expressing the national jubilation than that which is manifested through the practice of burning powder in the various dangerous forms in which it is manufactured expressly for display and noisy, nerve-racking demonstration. The latest recruit to the ranks of the anti-explosive advocates is that sober and influential magazine—the Atlantic Monthly—which, in the current number, advocates the substitution of what is known as "the Springfield plan" for the system of celebrating the national holiday now in vogue. The Atlantic Monthly thus summarizes the new plan:

"First, there is the ideal set up of the day as a civic festival, to educate, inspire, fuse the conglomerate human mass. Second, indiscriminate use of fireworks and explosives is curbed. Third, pageantry, carried out by the schools and by foreign-born citizens, is used to set forth the striking chapters in colonial and Revolutionary history, and to illustrate the variety of races—and their racial and national customs and costumes—which are found among the citizens. Fourth, local musical, literary and oratorical talent is used before large popular assemblies, gathered in many parts of the city, to render national hymns and folk-songs, and to set forth eloquently the contemporary duties of citizenship. Ample provision is made for sports and games, and for illumination at night of homes, public buildings, parks and natural centers of assembly, where the city itself displays fireworks of a grade worth exhibiting."

There is ample scope in such a program for a patriotic demonstration free from the evils associated with the discharge of firearms, the explosion of bombs, firecrackers, red heads, rockets and other dangerous elements which put the lives and limbs of old and young in jeopardy. Probably the movement for a sane celebration on the Springfield plan will never succeed as long as the powder and fireworks trusts are able to exert the influence they now possess over the minds of the juveniles of the country and continue to reap the enormous profits which a monopoly of the trade gives them.

Coming Imperial Conferences.

The Kaiser and his cousin, the Czar, will meet this week on board the latter's yacht in the gulf of Finland. All the chancelleries of Europe will wonder in the meantime what new conspiracy against its peace will be hatched between them. Germany has been isolated by the recent establishment of cordial relations between Russia, Great Britain and France, and Kaiser William has on various occasions shown resentment at the course of diplomatic events in Europe, in which his uncle, King Edward VII of England, has figured conspicuously as negotiator and peacemaker.

It is assumed that the purpose of the Kaiser in seeking the present meeting with the Czar is to endeavor to induce that weak and vacillating monarch to repudiate whatever alliances he may have formed with France and Britain and come to a friendly understanding with himself for the mutual advantage of Russia and Germany. But the imperial meeting in the gulf of Finland is to be followed later by a visit of the Czar to King Edward during the Cowes regatta, off the Isle of Wight.

It is safe to say, however, that if the belligerent and ambitious German Emperor succeeds in breeding any mischief at this week's interview with Nicholas which may threaten to disturb the peace of Europe or to impair the entente cordiale existing between Russia and France and England, it will be offset by the suave and diplomatic Edward at the Cowes conference. While there is no reason to suspect that the visit of the Czar to England can be in anywise other than friendly and in the interest of the world's peace, the incident has been seized by a Socialist in the House of Commons to rail vigorously against it and to denounce the Emperor of Russia in the most violent terms as an "inhuman brute," despite the efforts of the Speaker to stop the abuse and the loud protests of the other members of the House.

The one hundred and thirty-fourth anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill falls on tomorrow. It is a day and an event which every patriotic American will take especial delight in celebrating. Of course, it goes without saying that the stars and stripes will float that day at the head of every flagpole in Oakland and its environs.

Ruthless Forest Destruction.

The proposed retirement of the Bellingham Bay Lumber Company from business illustrates the rapidity with which the forest lands of the Pacific Coast are being denuded. The corporation is one of the largest lumber concerns in the State of Washington. It was organized twenty-two years ago with some of the largest holdings of timber lands in its possession in the ownership of any single corporation engaged in the lumber business on the Pacific Coast. Its mill plant is also one of the three largest in existence on the western side of the continent. But its available timber lands have been stripped of their merchantable tree growth in the short period of twenty-two years, or less than the life of a generation.

Associated with the announcement of the corporation's intention to immediately wind up its affairs and retire from business permanently, it is given out that the land on which the mills stand has become too valuable for such manufacturing purposes. Doubtless the mill site has increased in value materially during the past twenty-two years, as the value of all lands on the coast suitable for commercial uses has increased; but offering that fact as an apology for retiring from business must be accepted merely as a cloak to conceal the main proposition. The destructive and wasteful system of lumbering which has been carried out during the brief period of its existence has resulted, as all intelligent students of the forest resources of the Pacific Coast have long foreseen as inevitable, in the total denudation of the land. When the final statement comes to be made of the area cut and the amount of lumber manufactured by this one corporation in twenty-two years the figures will be appalling. But the waste which has accompanied the logging and the milling can safely be placed at a corresponding figure, and for the latter the coming generations must suffer, as it will take many generations to come for nature to restore what has been so ruthlessly destroyed.

Los Angeles' Latest Ambition.

There is no limit to the ambition of Los Angeles in the matter of territorial expansion. Between what was formerly its southern boundary and the town of Wilmington, located at the head of the slough constituting the inner harbor of San Pedro, named by courtesy Wilmington harbor, there is a distance of eighteen miles. A few years ago Los Angeles acquired jurisdiction over a narrow strip one-half mile in width extending to a corresponding frontage on Wilmington harbor. This constitutes a bond between the two cities. A futile effort has been made since to acquire jurisdiction over the inner and outer harbors of Wilmington and San Pedro. Failing in that purpose, a petition was circulated for the calling of a special election for the consolidation of the three cities. Of course, the purpose is the same as that which prompts the annexation of the eighteen-mile stocking leg strip one-half mile wide, namely, to gratify the ambition of being able to advertise itself abroad as a commercial seaport, although its city hall is located twenty-two miles from the sea.

Fifteen thousand names have been signed to the petition which has been filed with the Board of Supervisors and is now being checked. Most of the signatures are, of course, those of Los Angeles voters; but the petition is said to carry far more signatures of Wilmington and San Pedro voters than the percentage required by law to authorize the call of the election by the Supervisors. The latter are now checking the names as a safeguard against fraud. The number of names attached to the petition is no guarantee, however, that the proposed consolidation of the three widely separated cities will carry, for to succeed two-thirds of the number of votes cast must favor the proposition.

The strike of the Japanese sugar plantation laborers in Hawaii Territory is reaching an acute stage, as it threatens to become an international issue as the result of the raid on one of the Japanese newspaper offices in Honolulu by the local authorities and the seizure of papers there which indicate that a conspiracy had been formed to get control of the sugar plantations and ultimately of the islands also. Washington contents itself, however, with the conviction that the incident has no diplomatic significance and that if any violation of treaty rights has been committed by the Hawaiian authorities it is a subject for settlement by the local courts.

Rather than run the risk involved in the trial of a suit for $30,000,000 damages brought against it by a small competitor, which it virtually drove out of business, the Sugar Trust is settling out of court. "The recent exposure," says the Springfield Republican, "of the systematic frauds this powerful concern had practiced upon the United States government must have made its officials fearful of the effect upon public opinion that another revelation of its methods in the suit first referred to would have had. It was better business management to settle out of court and avoid the publicity."

The price of hops has gone up and Los Angeles, which is a particularly thirsty town, is disturbed because the brewers have put up also the price of bottled beer.

EXTENDED IT TO THE UNGUARDED CROSSINGS

POLITICAL COMMENT

Hoke Smith does not seem to have met the situation in the Georgia Railroad strike with any great degree of courage. We fear that he has lost some of the backbone Grover Cleveland thought he had when he made him a member of his Cabinet.—Charleston News and Courier.

There is need in the State of Illinois for a practical movement of good citizenship to counteract the forces of practical politics now in complete ascendancy of our public affairs. There should be a State-wide alliance for this purpose, which should know no division of city and country but should work practically and harmoniously for the common good.—Chicago Tribune.

There is talk now of a new party to supplant the Democracy. Its authors are men disgusted with Mr. Bryan's policies and leadership but not disposed to go over to the Republicans. They favor sound money, do not strenuously object to protection, acquiesce in the suggestion of secession in the matter of the Philippines and believe in a strong navy. On personal grounds they admire J. Edgar Taft, and are glad to see him in the White House.—Washington Star.

The time for party leaders to express themselves about a platform is when their views can bear some fruit, not long after the harvest is gathered. The Democratic party is falling apart for lack of leadership which can dominate, lay down doctrine and whip scattered elements together again under a common standard.—Richard Times-Dispatch.

Speaker Cannon does not seem to doubt the power of the Federal Government to step in and build roads, but his opposition to the exercise of this power rests on the immense expenditure it would entail and on the further ground that there is no way of determining where the Government should stop if it should once begin the work.—Washington Post.

We are more firmly convinced now than we were during the campaign that in the hands of the democrats the tariff situation would be still more confused. If anything has been demonstrated, it is that the democrats in congress are not near enough together to agree on any kind of a tariff bill.—Baltimore News.

TIMELY TOPICS

Uncle Sam's ability to handle almost anything as mail matter was demonstrated when fifteen pounds of ice, carefully wrapped in a rubber covering, was delivered to Dr. A. M. Miller of Hawthorne, Nev., the package being consigned to him by the Reno Ice Company. It was safely in Hawthorne Sunday, and Dr. Miller, who is a millionaire, longed for a cooling drink. He telegraphed the local ice company for fifteen pounds of ice by mail. It was forwarded as requested, bearing many stamps. Eleven pounds were lost in transit.—Chicago Daily News.

At the recent centennial of the death of Thomas Paine, Prof. David Saville Murray of the Society of Ethical Culture in speaking of the enforcement of capital punishment in some states, said: "To nature belongs the right of death," so wrote Thomas Paine. Despotism has taken it from her, but nature will restore it some day. It was Thomas Paine who first suggested independence and the reality of real brotherhood and we will wait for the realization of these things."

Not to be outdone musically by New York's Police Department, Chicago policemen have set out to organize a band. Chief Shippy, who used to "pound the pavement" himself, is enthusiastically in favor of the scheme and promises all the aid he can give. Thirty-two pieces have been decided on as a starter. The band will be devoted entirely to the interests of the Police Department and to the other branches of the city government, marching at the head of parades and attending in a body the funerals of members of the force and city officials.

Unoccupied places in the Chicago stockyards are to be made to bloom. Instead of unattractive lanes and pens and yards are to present stretches of flower beds, with here and there buildings surrounded with shrubbery. The scheme originated with J. Ogden Armour and the first fruits of his plan may be seen at the general offices of Armour & Co., where bright flowers are in bloom all around the building. The packers hope that the visitors to the yards will find comfort in the flowers and shrubbery after they have listened to the thousand and one grating noises which fill the air at all hours of the day.

PERFUME

Just now a wave of perfume floated up
To greet my senses, as I broke the seal
Of her short letter, and I still can feel
It stir me as a saint the holy cup.
The missive lies there,—but a few plain words:
A thought about a song, a note of praise,
And social duties such as fill the days
Of women; then a thing that undergirds
The phrases like a psalm: a line that reads—
"I wish that you were coming!" Why, it lies
Upon my heart like blossoms on the skies,
Like breath of balm upon the clover meads.
The perfumed words soothe me into a dream;
My thoughts float to her on the scented stream.
—Gilbert Parker.

Frears of Tornado

Each day brings to light some new freak of the tornado which caused death and destruction in this part of the State a few days ago. As an evidence of the freakish force of the wind a big pine tree and a large plank on the property of the J. C. S. Roberts, about twelve miles from here, are joined as if done by an expert carpenter. Although the tree was a large one, the plank was picked up and driven through the center as neatly as if shot from a gun. Not only was the plank shot through the tree, but it went through without tearing the tree.

OLD PROVERBS

Italian Proverb: Who troubles others has no rest himself.
Dutch proverb: When it thunders the thief becomes honest.
Of Mr. Roberts' sawmill, and other planks in the pile were not molested by the wind. So singular does Mr. Roberts consider this action of the tornado that he has posted a notice telling how the plank was driven through the big pine, and ordering that it shall not be cut down.—Atlanta Georgian.

FOR A SAFE and a Sane Fourth

MISUNDERSTOOD.
One point should be insisted on at the beginning, and that is that a suggestion for a safe and sane Fourth does not mean an abandonment of its celebration, but its better celebration. Yet the former notion is too much assumed.—Indianapolis News.

COMMENDED.
Substitution of a rational Fourth of July for a merely noisy and dangerous one is a movement that should be commended. We notice that various municipalities have already this year begun to take steps to reduce the Independence Day peril and to check the volume of killings and maimings.—Hartford Times.

WORSE THAN A BATTLE.
Fourth of July celebrations are worse than a battle in an international war. There is no sense or reason in them, no argument in their defense. There is necessarily no relation between noise and patriotism. There is no apology for annoying the sick and the nervous by an infernal racket which can easily be avoided. The children and the grown-up can have just as good a time celebrating the Fourth in a more sensible way.—Utica Press.

SHOULD LEARN THE LESSON.
The Fourth of July usually is transformed into a mocking carnival of patriotism, and ears, eyes, fingers and lives are offered up to the modern Moloch, as are residences, stores, factories and warehouses. When will the American people learn the lesson?—Boston Herald.

WORK FOR EXPERTS.
If there must be tumults and large noises for the fitting expression of a fine national enthusiasm it would be so much more sensible to entrust officially delegated experts with the details of the hazardous ceremony. We can always have the noise and fireworks, but the time is coming when we will learn to enjoy the privilege of letting off a justifiable exuberance in a satisfactory manner and yet without paying for it in human life.—Des Moines Register and Leader.

PARENTS CAN HELP.
If parents would use ingenuity in selecting fireworks that would combine the maximum of spectacular effect with the minimum of danger a great deal would be gained. If they would intelligently participate in that they might supervise the fireworks proceedings, a good deal would be gained.—New Haven Register.

BAR PRIVATE CELEBRATIONS.
There is no need of accidents, no occasion to make the Fourth of July a day of mourning instead of joy by scenes of disorder and the bursting of bombs in the hands of small boys. No celebration at all is preferable to a celebration similar to some we have had in the past; but it is not necessary to go so far. Let the people insist that private celebrations be prohibited and let them ask for a proper public spectacle which everybody can enjoy.—Washington Post.

PUBLIC WAKING UP.
The public is waking up to the knowledge that the suppression of the dynamite firecracker is an evidence of good sense, not a lack of patriotic spirit. It is beginning to realize the nuisances which have made the day a horror, and that they can be abolished without curtailing our liberties or threatening the stability of our institutions.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Snapshots of Humorists

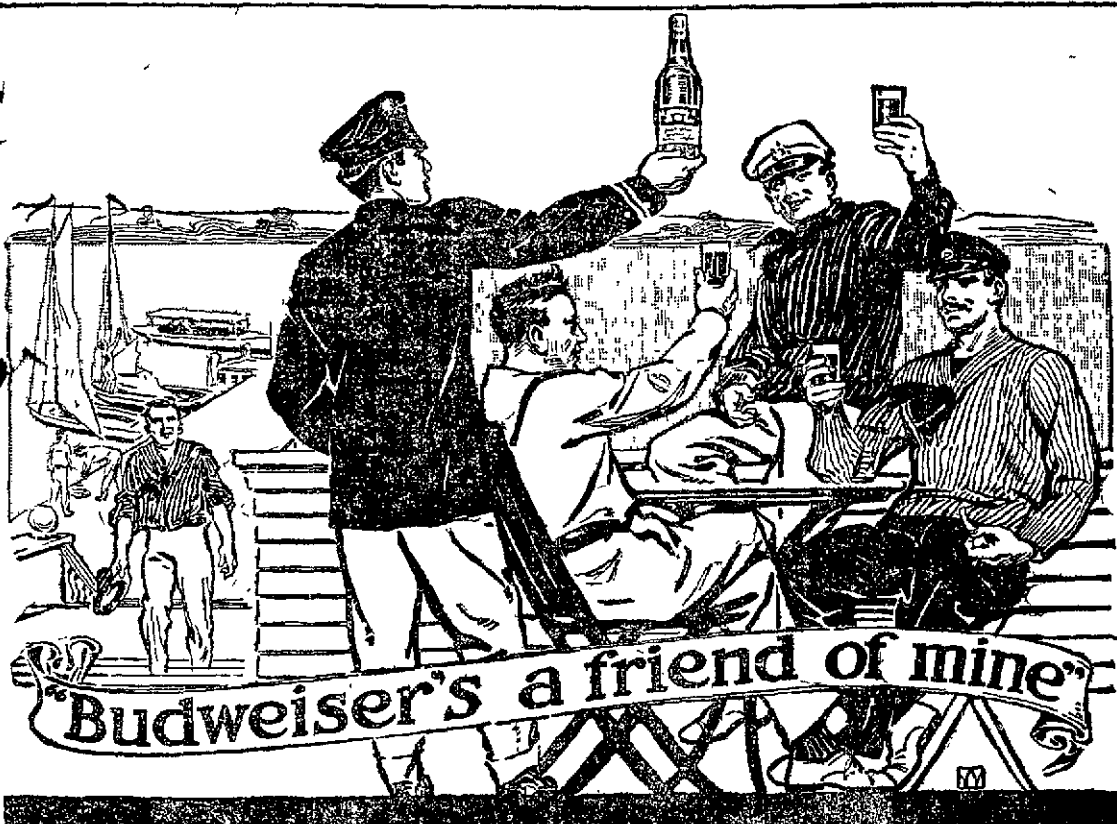

The Lady—Well, I'll give you two pence; not because you deserve it, mind, but because it pleases me.
The Tramp—Thank you, mum. Couldn't yer make it a tanner an' thoroughly enjoy yourself?—The Housekeeper.
Brown—Here is young Smith, Miss Robinson; I am going to introduce you. Miss Robinson—Oh, thanks! He has quite a delicate wit, has he not?
Brown—Delicate is hardly the word. Sticky would fit it better.—Illustrated Bits.

Freddie—Oh, I got square with him all right. I did it afterwards.—Puck.
"Owd George's" Wooden leg been giving him pain lately?

"Waiter," said a guest at a hotel as he inspected his bill before leaving, "there is one item omitted."
"What item, sir?" inquired the waiter.
"The manager said 'Good morning' to me yesterday and has forgotten to charge it!"—Tit-Bits.

Editorial Comment From Press of the Country

SMALL FOES THAT COST.
Great enemies are met and vanquished. Small foes thrive while the ways and means for their banishment are sought in vain. As a case in point there comes an official statement from Washington that the Norway rat is costing the country $100,000,000 a year.
Similarly, the cost of enduring the cotton-bill weevil threatens to reach a far greater sum each year; there are a score of heads of the beetle family chewing up $200,000,000 of forest trees annually; the chinch-bug genus has been equal to the destruction of about $330,000,000 in cereals in a decade, and its capacity increases yearly. Besides which, the codling moth in the apple trees, the borer among the peaches, the Hessian fly, the brown-tail and gypsy moths and many other swarming pests help to pile up a total annual insect cost of hundreds of millions.—New York World.

MAKES NO DIFFERENCE.
"The fact that he whom the natives of the African coast have dubbed their 'Bwana'—meaning 'big' or 'big hunter'—or something of the sort, has suddenly said that he would under no consideration accept the nomination for Mayor, seems to make absolutely no difference with those who are backing him for that office. They point out that he took just such a firm stand before, he finally accepted the nomination for Vice-President, and say that if the demand for him is great enough he can be brought to terms without a doubt."—New Haven Journal-Courier.

WOULD FIND AMPLE FOOD.
Theodore Roosevelt would be a great Mayor. The American people are just waiting for him to take the importance of the city of the city. He would find an ample field.—Des Moines Register and Leader.

Henry Dixey, Stage Hero of 'Adonis,' Again Becomes Benedict

HENRY E. DIKEY.

MISS MARIE NORDSTROM, The Charming Actress Who Has Just Become the Bride of Henry E. Dixey.

NEW YORK, June 15.—Henry Dixey, famous as the stage hero of "Adonis," "The Man on the Box" and

"Mary Jane's Pa," has just been married again—and has been married for three weeks at least. His bride is Miss Marie Nordstrom, leading woman of the "Mary Jane's Pa" company.

Dixey is one of the most versatile geniuses of the comic stage. His greatest blight came through his unparalleled success in that "perversion of common sense," "Adonis," which led the public for a long time to associate him with a single character, and to close its eyes to his efforts to prove that he was really a man of parts and could do a new turn as cleverly as he did the old one.

He was born in the quaintest part of the west end, Boston, January 6, 1869, and was stage inclined as a child. He was a mere boy when, in 1886, he attached himself to the variety stock at the Howard Athenaeum, Boston, where Manager John Stetson gave him a chance to make his first success as Peanuts in "Under the Gaslight."

Talks on Teeth

BY THE REX DENTAL CO.
(Incorporated.)

Bridge Building

The average dentist—in fact, we might say ALL dentists, build bridges in the mouth on the same general plan, viz. The teeth are set in the jaw on an arch BETWEEN TWO PIERS, the teeth being the piers.

There was no other plan known until the Rex Dental Co. discovered the now famous AL-VE-O-LAR method (teeth without plates).

The bridge plan would seem to be all right in theory, but it is all wrong in practice and both unscientific and unsatisfactory.

That constant push on the teeth piers means that sooner or later they will be destroyed. The strain loosens them, then gums become sore and then—the man with the bridge had better look out, for he is in for a session of refined torture that will make a common toothache seem mild in comparison.

If he is wise he will have the bridge removed at the first sign of discomfort. As a matter of fact he had better have it removed before that sign appears.

Refuse Compromise

PLAN TO ORGANIZE Y. M. C. A. FOR NEGROES

ELMHURST, June 15.—A meeting for the purpose of organizing a Y. M. C. A. for negroes, to be located in Oakland, was held at the residence of Z. Withers on Monday. Those present were Rev. W. R. Jones of San Francisco, Rev. H. Allen, Rev. G. M. Tillman, Rev. T. M. Davis, Rev. J. J. Byers, Rev. H. W. Hawkins, Mrs. M. F. Turner, C. E. Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. E. Withers.

Withers laid his plans before those present with regard to the publication of his book, "Our Inheritance," in connection with the establishment of a Y. M. C. A. for negroes. The plan was accepted.

By motion an organization was formed. Rev. D. R. Jones was elected president, C. E. Carpenter vice-president, Z. Withers secretary, Rev. I. H. Allen corresponding secretary and Rev. T. M. Davis, treasurer.

OFFICIALLY DEAD, BUT MUCH ALIVE

Blocks Attempt to Declare Forfeited Bail Part of Live Man's 'Estate'

LOS ANGELES, June 15.—Officially declared dead by the Superior Court of Los Angeles county and papers of administration issued for his estate, but very much alive and living in San Francisco is an incident in the history of S. Frank according to the report of City Prosecutor Guy Eddle, made to the city council.

The matter was brought up by a request of Warren Giffen that the bond he had given of $500 for Frank's appearance be returned to him. The bond had been declared forfeited by the amount that Frank would have been fined had he not "jumped his bail" and had been convicted.

Under Arrest

Frank and a companion were arrested as accomplices in the "white slave" traffic.

Shortly after the bond was forfeited J. Marion Brooks, attorney for Frank, told Prosecutor Eddie that Frank was dead, and asked if he would be willing if a portion of the money represented by the bond be given to the estate. The prosecutor told him there was no estate, and to remedy this deficiency Brooks appeared in the Superior Court with some witnesses, who were designated as questionable and who swore that Frank was dead. The papers of administration were issued to Brooks and he again demanded the money.

The prosecutor refused to accept any compromise and in the interests of the estate Attorney H. J. Goudge, representing Warren Giffen, asked the council to compromise the matter. Eddie told the council that as he had secured positive proof that Frank was alive and in San Francisco the council refused the compromise.

PLAN TO ORGANIZE Y. M. C. A. FOR NEGROES

ELMHURST, June 15.—A meeting for the purpose of organizing a Y. M. C. A. for negroes, to be located in Oakland, was held at the residence of Z. Withers on Monday. Those present were Rev. W. R. Jones of San Francisco, Rev. H. Allen, Rev. G. M. Tillman, Rev. T. M. Davis, Rev. J. J. Byers, Rev. H. W. Hawkins, Mrs. M. F. Turner, C. E. Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. E. Withers.

Withers laid his plans before those present with regard to the publication of his book, "Our Inheritance," in connection with the establishment of a Y. M. C. A. for negroes. The plan was accepted.

By motion an organization was formed. Rev. D. R. Jones was elected president, C. E. Carpenter vice-president, Z. Withers secretary, Rev. I. H. Allen corresponding secretary and Rev. T. M. Davis, treasurer.

Anty Drudge Tells How to Avoid Scalding Children.

Ethel—"Oh, mama! Harold put his hand into the boiling water in the washtub and scalded it just awfully."
Anty Drudge—"Just as I told you. Boiling clothes is dangerous as well as wasteful. If you would use Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, you'd save time, money and hard work and there wouldn't be any danger of the children getting scalded."

Hot weather is bad enough without a hot fire and steaming suds in washing clothes.

There is a better way.

Fels-Naptha soap will cleanse your clothes in cool or lukewarm water, without boiling or hard rubbing, in summer or winter.

It will do the work in less than half the time and make your clothes sweeter, cleaner and whiter.

And the clothes will wear longer.

Think of it!

Why should any woman risk her health and shorten her life by wearing herself out with hard work, and subject herself to discomfort in boiling clothes and rubbing them through hot suds?

Follow easy directions on the red and green wrapper.

HOLD FUNERAL OF CAPT. KELLEY

Dr. E. R. Dille, Old Friend of Family, Officiates at the Services

The funeral of the late Captain George Walter Kelley, one of the pioneer residents of this city who died on Monday from heart trouble, while at Pacific Grove, was held from the family residence at 4294 Piedmont avenue, in this city, today. The Rev. Dr. E. R. Dille, a life long friend of the family, officiated, and the body was interred at Mountain View Cemetery. The services were conducted under the auspices of the G. A. R., of the Masonic Lodge and the Loyd Legion of which Captain Kelley was an honored member.

His widow, Mary Eugene Tharp Kelley, four daughters and a son survive him. His oldest daughter, Mrs. Walter M. Davis, resides in New York. Miss Edith Kelley is in Paris pursuing her studies in music. Muriel and Dorothy and George Arthur Kelley are with their mother.

Captain Kelley and his family went to Pacific Grove in May, intending to remain through the summer.

ORPHANS HAVE DAY AT PARK

Joaquin Miller Speaks to Children in His Last Public Address

Today has been known as Orphans' Day at Piedmont Park, and since early this morning 500 little guests, inmates of the Fred Finch, Temescal and West Oakland Home orphanages, have been romping under the trees and noontime was marked by a general picnic luncheon.

This afternoon, under the trees of the natural amphitheater at the park, the children of the Fred Finch orphanage gave the second production of the cantata, "A Day in the Woods," which was a feature of their benefit some weeks ago. The proceeds will be devoted to the installation of a steam laundry at the home.

Over seventy-five children took part in the production, which was interspersed by a number of original and clever vaudeville acts. The musical program was under the direction of Mrs. M. A. E. Eod, who gives much of her time to teaching the children the principles of music.

Joaquin Miller addressed the children, making, he asserts, his last public speech. Afterwards games were played and very substantial contributions to the charity fund were made by many of the patrons of the park, who were present at the day's exercises.

Blind Composer Draws Her Inspirations From Moonlight

MISS ADA CASTELL BRYDGES, The Blind Singer Wh ohas Composed Forty-two Vocal and Instrumental Selections.

Composing upon the inspiration derived from the moonlight is a pastime dear to the heart of Miss Ada Castell Brydges, the blind singer and the daughter of the late Castell Brydges, the toner of minstrel fame. She lives with her mother, Mrs. V. M. Green, 1617 Thirteenth avenue, who has much histrionic ability and was the sister of the late Kate Castellon.

Miss Brydges has inherited her musical ability and her gift for improvising. She does not write her compositions, but draws a mental picture of all her songs and then finds the tones on the piano, which blend harmoniously with the sounds and words which she has thought out during the night hours. Frequently she is seen on the doorsteps planning and studying compositions, which are of the classical nature.

The pleasures of other people are my pleasures, and I am never unhappy. Many people cannot understand how a person without sight can be jolly and pleasure-loving. There is never a moment in my life that I am sad. I have no time to nurse melancholy thoughts. All my hopes and ambitions are centered in my music. That is my salvation. It is the only real pleasure that life holds for me, I might say. Every one has some aspirations, which they wish to carry out and realize when the height of their ambition is realized. Nothing can take the place of music in my mind. To me it is a consolation as well as a great pleasure. I have had very little instruction in singing. The greater part of my musical education I have given myself by perseverance and study.

Lives For Music
"I do not think I am blind," said the sweet-voiced singer in an interview with a TRIBUNE reporter. "I do everything that a seeing person can do. I love the things which people with their sight are fond of. I am romantic and I have composed several romantic songs, which I could not have thought out if I had not felt the meaning of the word. I have never felt my affliction. I live just like ordinary people with their normal sight."

When quite a young student of music Miss Brydges sang before Madame Minikowsky for the Lillian Nordica scholarship, which would have been awarded the singer by the famous diva had not the unfortunate girl been blind. Nordica wished to educate a girl for the grand opera stage, and after considering Miss Brydges decided that it would be impossible for a blind girl to make her appearance on the stage. Miss Brydges has a splendid mezzo-soprano voice, which has been praised by critics and music-lovers.

MURDER PUZZLE CASE UP FOR SOLUTION

Harper E. Bennett on Trial For Alleged Poisoning of His Wife

ALLEGED AFFINITY WITH ACCUSED'S BABES MISSING

Spouse Was Supposed to Have Died From Eating Canned Food

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—One of the most puzzling murder cases that has appeared on the criminal court calendars of this country in years was begun today with the preliminary hearing of Harper E. Bennett, a real estate agent charged with administering poison to his wife, Eugenia T. Bennett, and causing her death on February 12 last.

Mrs. Bennett died supposedly from eating canned chili con carne and Bennett himself claimed to have been in the seriously ill at the same time by the same cause. He subsequently sued a grocery firm for $50,000 damages for causing the death of his wife.

Strychnine Found
On May 19 the body of Mrs. Bennett was exhumed and upon a chemical analysis it was claimed strychnine was found in the viscera. Bennett's attorneys assert, however, that the physician who attended Mrs. Bennett during her fatal illness, administered hypodermic injections of strychnine which would account for the small particles alleged to have been found.

The physician says Bennett had an affinity in San Diego and desired to be tried in his wife.

Alleged Affinity Gone
SAN DIEGO, June 16.—Shortly after the death of his wife and before a criminal analysis of the body had been made, Bennett came to this city, establishing a residence with a woman said to be his housekeeper and his two children. Later Bennett returned to Los Angeles and was arrested. The woman and the two children have since disappeared.

WANT ONE SEWER FOR THREE CITIES

Engineers Propose that Emeryville, Berkeley and Oakland Unite on Proposition

City Engineer Turner announced this morning that negotiations were pending between his office and the offices of the city engineers of Berkeley and Emeryville relative to laying a stone sewer from the bay onward to San Pablo avenue, along the line dividing Berkeley and Oakland.

If the cities do not act jointly in the matter of constructing sewers, they will have to work independently, necessitating the laying of three separate sewers to carry off the storm water.

City Engineer Turner's plan is to have the three cities unite in building one large sewer, which can be done at a much less cost than if three separate sewers were built.

Engineer Hanley of Emeryville and Engineer McGuire of Berkeley approve of the plans submitted by Turner, and it is probable that the three municipalities will build one large sewer.

Adventuress and Divorcee to Live on Farm With Actress

MRS. TOM PIERCE.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Mrs. Tom Pierce, whose spectacular progress through drawing room, hunting field, divorce court and sanitarium is a matter of history has added a final shock to a life of fireworks which has kept the tea table gossip almost hysterical for six years past by announcing that she is going to do something she has never done before and which will at least have the novelty of unfamiliarity—namely, settle down.

She will, according to her announced plans, spend the rest of the summer at Beverly farms, Massachusetts, with her devoted friend, Adele Ritchie, the actress, Mrs. Pierce's quest for happiness has been long and diversified. When she was Alice Crownshield Rogers, daughter of an old Salem family, she had position and comfort. But her life in the New England town was of the straight-laced, prescribed order, and she chafed under it and was miserable. Then, in 1899, she married Tom Pierce, son of a railroad magnate worth $7,000,000. As his bride she took a leading place in Boston society and had everything that money could buy.

She outdid society at its own practices. The liveliest sets in Boston found in her their liveliest member. But she got no joy from this sort of life, either. A separation from her husband came in 1907, when she was granted a divorce. Pierce put in no defense to this, and withdrew his own suit, letting her obtain the decree and alimony of $500 a month. He is now to marry again.

"THE OTHER" WOMAN BREAKS UP HOME

Judge Fred V. Wood of Amador county, sitting in Department Two of the local Superior Court, has granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to Maria P. Richards from Charles E. Richards, because he deserted her and went to live with another woman. The custody of the minor son is also awarded to her. The couple were married in San Francisco in 1901, and Richards deserted his wife in this city in 1907.

BIG CABLE TO GO UNDER BAY

Pacific Telephone Company to Improve its Local Service

The unusual sight of eight teams of horses dragging an enormous truck through the crowded streets of New York caused thousands to stare in astonishment, when a reel of cable weighing twenty-six and a half tons started on its way to the Pacific coast. Together with the truck, which had been especially built to hold the great spool, the weight behind the sixteen horses was over thirty-one tons. On the reel was a piece of telephone cable 4250 feet in length, the first quarter of a line that is to be stretched under San Francisco bay, connecting Oakland and San Francisco by way of Goat Island.

Difficult Task

So difficult was the task of lifting the reel that the truck was built close to the ground. Between the bottom of the truck and the street there were but eight inches to spare. The wagon wheels were from eight to twelve inches in width, to prevent the cutting of ruts into the street pavements. Guiding eight teams around New York's street corners is no simple feat, even for the most expert drivers. The trip from the factory of the Western Electric company at Hawthorne, Illinois, and the armor, which protects the wires from damage, had to be added in the New York shops.

Crosses Island

This cable is to be laid in the bay in two sections. The first, 8500 feet in length, extends from San Francisco to Goat Island. Here connection with land cable is made. The lines dip again into the water, with another stretch of 8500 feet to Oakland mole. The break at Goat Island saves about 1000 feet of submarine cable.

The cable is one of the largest ever made. It contains sixty-nine pairs of telephone wire, insulated and protected. This will mean sixty-nine trunk lines under the waters of San Francisco bay. Hemp and wire form the armor plate, which is capable of withstanding the ravages of the deep for many a year. The cable is between three and four inches in diameter.

The shipping of the big reel and the stretching of the cable under San Francisco bay together form quite an undertaking. The cable was ordered by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. The second length left New York in the same manner two days later, and two more, making the entire 17,000 feet, will follow as soon as completed.

STATE PRIMARY LAW IS INVALID

Illinois Supreme Court Declares Measure Is Unconstitutional

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 16.—The Supreme Court today decided that the primary election law was unconstitutional.

The primary law declared unconstitutional by the State Supreme Court today is the third State primary law which the high court has invalidated by the highest tribunal in the State. The law was passed by the Forty-fifth General Assembly.

In the workings of the law objection was made to the cumbersome machinery which it occasioned and to the restrictions which were placed on voters before they were eligible to participate in the primary. Criticism was also raised on the powers granted to various committees of the different political parties. In present circles it is considered that the decision will probably necessitate the calling of a special session of the Legislature this fall.

Indictments to Fall

The independent voters of the State objected to the present primary law because under it they were obliged to declare fealty to one party if they decided to vote at the primaries. Through the action of the Supreme Court the indictments against West Side politicians in Chicago for alleged fraud in the primaries last August will fall if it is declared by lawyers conversant with the case, because they are based on sections of the law now declared unconstitutional.

PRISONER WALKS OUT OF PRISON

Man Wanted in Oakland Makes His Escape From Jail in Chico

CHICO, June 16.—J. Martin, alias Frank Manning, and probably several other names, the notorious prisoner who was wanted in Oakland, Sacramento, Marysville and other places, besides Chico, on forgery charges, escaped yesterday when a Marysville officer came to take him to that place. Martin had been playing sick for several days, but was well enough to travel yesterday.

The Marysville officer accompanied Marshal Goe to the City Prison and asked where Martin's baggage was. Both officers then went to get it. When they returned Martin was gone. Goe says he surely looked the door and there is no explanation of how the man escaped.

BIG ENGINES REQUIRE MONSTER TURNTABLE

AUBURN, June 15.—Within a few days the installation of the great turntable at Summit, made necessary by the advent of the new "class 4000" locomotives, will have been completed by the Southern Pacific Company. The pit for the great table has been completed, and the truss that will support the weight of the monster locomotives has arrived. The pit is more than 100 feet in diameter. The table proper is 98 feet long, and that leaves only two feet clearance at each end when one of the two locomotives now in use is occupying it. The entire table has a diameter of about 125 feet. The truss for the turntable was brought across the continent on two specially built cars. It looks like a bridge already set up. Owing to the cold nights at the Summit the concrete work of the table has been slow to dry, but it now is about ready for the weight it is to support.

USE OF NEW HIGH-GRADE PIANO FREE

This opportunity is not open to any transient party who is wanting a piano just for a time, and who may want to force the instrument back on us before we are able to give it a place in our new store.

There are only a few left out, of more than 200. Over 175 have been put out in the last two weeks. This extraordinary opportunity to get the use of an instrument absolutely free until we are permanently located in our new quarters at 1214 Clay street is almost at an end, but we still have a few brand new instruments to select from in a number of different makes. Of course, if you prefer to rent an instrument year in and year out, we will give you the lowest possible rates, lower now than you could get them anywhere else, as we must find room for every piano we have in stock. We have Grands, Player Pianos and new Uprights, as well as used instruments to select from. The reason of this extraordinary offer is that the landlord of the premises at the expiration of the lease, doubled our rent, in the middle of the vacation season, and the Heine Piano Company at no time will pay what they consider an unfair rent, as it is not possible to treat the public squarely if you are paying more rent than the population warrants. The great success of this company has been that they have always insisted upon all their branches paying a fair rent. If you want to buy an instrument on easy terms, we will give you the same price as spot cash. We are making such a reduction on used pianos that you could not help but be tempted, and all we want is to get a place to put our instruments so that we will not have to store them for the time we will be getting our new warehouses ready. Don't put this off. Before the end of the week your opportunity will be over. Heine Piano Company, 538 Twelfth street, corner Clay street. Open evenings.

TO GIVE NAVAL BATTLE ON LAKE

Miniature Warships to Engage in Fight on Night of July 4

At a meeting of the Fourth of July Committee last night in the rooms of the Merchants' Exchange, plans were shown picturing the proposed pyrotechnic display on Lake Merritt for the evening celebration. The fireworks will be most elaborate, something worth traveling miles to see. The east shore of the lake will be strung with thousands of electric lights of all colors which will transform the boulevard into a radiant scene. From the dredgers in the middle of the lake there will be a grand display of fireworks, and bands of music from the floats and from convenient spots on the shore will further enliven the occasion with patriotic airs.

An innovation in pyrotechnic effects is being arranged by the fireworks committee to take place on the western shores of the lake. This will be a huge mechanical device about 200 feet in circumference showing miniature battleships in action. From this device all kinds of fireworks will be shot off and it is expected to prove a wonderful sight.

The east shore of the lake will be the promenade, and the lights will be so arranged as to make a path between two banks of vari-colored incandescents.

According to the bank examiner sixteen years more than enough time to wind up the affairs of one defunct bank.

INDUSTRIAL MEN CHANGE PLACE OF BANQUET

Chamber of Commerce to Hold
Dinner in Scottish Rite
Cathedral

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED FOR THE BIG GATHERING

Victor H. Metcalf Will Be Asked to Speak on the Occasion

In order to afford a greater convenience, it has been decided to hold the "Great Day" celebration, the annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce, at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, on Thursday evening, July 1, instead of the skating rink at Alameda Park, as was originally planned.

The smaller hall, with the added space provided by the removal of a partition at one end of the room, will amply accommodate the 300 guests who are expected to be present. The greatest attraction of the evening will be the appearance of Victor H. Metcalf, who will be asked to speak on the occasion.

Metcalf May Speak

In addition, a business arrangement was made with the business men, who are the inspiration and the backbone of the Chamber of Commerce, to go directly to the hall which is situated at Fifteenth and Madison streets, from their commercial headquarters. The purpose of this arrangement is to insure that the dinner speakers will be heard distinctly from all parts of the room.

Now the Right Time

W. B. Gibson, who as chairman of the committee of arrangements, presided at the meeting of the body this morning, says of the project now on foot:

"A few days ago, a member of the Chamber suggested the idea of an 'Industrial Banquet,' and the suggestion immediately found favor with many of our members. A special committee was appointed, and arrangements have been completed for giving one of the best, as well as one of the most unique banquets ever given in California."

"The committee believes just now to be the best time to hold the banquet, as the city is in the midst of an enthusiastic celebration of the centennial of the city's founding, which two thousand members were added to this organization, and the success of which is now known from the Pacific to the Atlantic."

"The committee feels confident of the loyalty and active cooperation of both the old and the new members, and believes it will only be necessary to extend this invitation to secure an enthusiastic attendance. The type of the banquet is superlative, and Gustav Mann says it will be the best feed ever given in California for the money."

Committees in Charge

The following committees are in charge of arrangements:

Banquet Committee—W. B. Gibson, B. P. Miller, Theo. Glen, R. S. Kitchener, C. M. Wood, E. B. Hill, J. C. Hill, C. M. Schrader, C. H. Reiter, A. B. Weeks, I. H. Clay, H. C. Capwell, W. E. Gibson, chairman, C. M. Wood, secretary, Col. Theo. Glen, treasurer.

Program Committee—E. B. Hill, H. C. Capwell, I. H. Clay, C. M. Wood.

Seating Committee—E. B. Hill, A. B. Weeks, C. M. Wood, secretary, Col. Theo. Glen, chairman.

TO FIGHT FOR ISLAND ESTATE

Mrs. David Hanbury to Resist Claims of Husband's Brother

Mrs. David Hanbury, wife of David Hanbury, the reputed millionaire, has taken up her residence on Island No. 2, near Napa, and has declared her intention to resist any effort on the part of John Hanbury, the London brother of David, to dispossess her and make good his claim that the island is his.

The Bank of Napa, having loaned Mrs. Hanbury $5000 on the island estate, will perhaps assist her in her fight.

Hanbury's brother also has a deed to the property and an affirmation of the same, and has ordered his Napa lawyer to sell the estate for him.

David Hanbury, the husband, is also reported as having his residence at a distance from the island, and is said to be preparing for his appearance on June 22, when he will be called upon to explain why he took up court papers served on him prior to his departure on his recent trip abroad.

The property question were in reference to a claim for $150,000, due a former employee as wages.

27 TO TESTIFY WOMAN 'TERROR'

Mrs. Hattie Almos Fails to Impress Court With Tale of Alleged Wrongs

After Informing Police Judge Samuels told morning that she was recommended by all the Christian churches, Mrs. Hattie Almos, residing in the 500 block on Fifty-sixth street, started to tell the court what a bad woman and a bad neighbor Mrs. Catherine Gleason, who lives next door to her, was.

Mrs. Almos was certain that her peace had been disturbed on Decoration Day, but the evidence all tended to show that Mrs. Almos sought to incite her neighbor into disturbing the peace, but was unsuccessful. Judge Samuels abruptly dismissed the charge against Mrs. Gleason, after three witnesses, on her behalf, had been heard.

Attorney Thomas Bradley, representing Mrs. Gleason, had every neighbor within two blocks of Mrs. Almos summoned as character witnesses.

A "Terror" He Says

"If your honor cares to listen," said Bradley, "I can show by twenty-seven witnesses that Mrs. Almos is the terror of the neighborhood. That she frightens children and that she has driven three of her neighbors away. I can further show that if any peace was disturbed, Mrs. Almos was guilty of it, and that Mrs. Gleason absolutely did not reply to abusive epithets hurled at her."

Judge Samuels ended the matter by dismissing the charge without comment.

J. F. KEEFER MAY RECOVER

It Is Now Thought That Neither
Back Nor Skull Is Fractured

The condition of J. F. Keefer, the barber, who lay for five-seven hours in the city prison while suffering from injuries without medical attention, is favorable to his recovery, according to the physicians who are attending him at the Alameda hospital. It is a question whether Keefer is suffering from a broken back or a severed spinal cord. Dr. A. J. Jones, of the Board of Health, who examined the man, says it is not possible at this time to state whether Keefer's back is fractured or whether he is suffering from a bruise. One of the legs is paralyzed, but this condition, according to Dr. Jones, might have been brought about by a clot of blood on the spinal column.

On Long Spree

Captain of Detectives Petersen, who directed that investigation be made into the circumstances leading up to Keefer's injuries, says that he had been on a spree since last Friday. Late Friday night he was ejected from the saloon of Con Donovan, at Alcatraz and Telegraph avenues, because of his condition. That night he slept in the rear of the saloon in a vacant lot. In the morning he was given a drink by Donovan, and 20 cents with which to get breakfast. After that Keefer visited saloon after saloon until he was in a helpless state of intoxication. The injured man's condition was very much improved when he fell senseless on the floor of a store at 406 Twelfth street.

D. F. Barry of 665 Sixty-fifth street delivered to Captain Petersen a watch which Barry says was given to him by Keefer. Barry says Keefer was very much under the influence of liquor, but left the watch with him for safe keeping. In speaking of the condition of Keefer, Dr. Jones this morning said:

"The chances are that Keefer will recover. There is no fracture of the skull, as reported, and there is a large question as to whether or not the back is fractured. It is not apparent, since more of a severe contusion."

Forget Work in
Day of Jollity

Butchers and Friends Are Having Great Time at Shell-

The people of Oakland and the cities about the bay might as well be vegetarians for all the meat they can buy today. Every butcher shop is closed and every butcher, with his wife, his family and his sweetheart is at the big picnic held at Shell Mound park and the Buellville racetrack.

Far from the housewife who insists that the last porterhouse she got was really a round steak and the one who voices her suspicion that the leg of spring lamb she received came from a last year's sheep, the welders of the tube and cleaves are forgetting their work and troubles in a day of jollity. They met out the meat and made merry once a year—and this is their day for 1939.

Young and Old Dance

The picnic grounds and the racetrack are filled with attractions for them. Within the enclosure of Shell Mound a band discourses music to which the young people dance—and some of the older ones, too, made by the inspiring music. They forget the years that have passed over their heads.

Feast For All

And not only is there dancing, but feasting of the boldest kind. The shop and the store and the eatery are packed by the careful housewives last night, and this morning thousands of these hamper, harbingers of good cheer at the noon hour, could be seen, carried with thoughtful care, for what would a picnic be if the basket should be lost?

Not only is there the whole scene, but strong attractions. Horse races, vaudeville exhibitions, street races, 'boys', girls', men's, women's races furnish excitement and sport.

W. Y. LOAIZA
GIVEN DIVORCE

Wife in 1904 Fled to Mexico
With Children and Stayed
There

Wesley Y. Loaiza, a wealthy resident of Fruitvale and senior member of the New York and San Francisco law firm, commission and insurance firm that bears his name, this morning secured an interlocutory decree of divorce in the Superior Court from Maria San Vicente de Loaiza, on the ground of desertion.

According to Loaiza's testimony, the couple were married in San Francisco in October, 1903, and two minor children, both boys, are the fruits of the union. Without any apparent reason, Mrs. Loaiza left her husband in the fall of 1904, while they resided on Sutter street near Laguna, San Francisco, and taking her children went to Hermosillo, Mexico, where they have resided ever since. There has been no communication since between Loaiza and his traitor wife, although the former told the court that recently, when Mr. F. Montale of Berkeley returned from a visit in Mexico, he told Loaiza that he had seen his wife down there and that she had told him that she would have nothing more to do with her husband. Although he has written to her asking her to let the boys visit him, his wife paid no attention to his letters. In spite of this, Loaiza testified that he provided his wife with money regularly every month.

Dies of Thirst
While on Desert

EL CENTRO, Cal., June 15.—The first victim of the deadly heat and drought of the desert for the present year was discovered yesterday by R. M. Morgan while returning to his ranch northwest of El Centro from San Ramon Mountain, where he found the body of an unknown white man, who had evidently perished from hunger and thirst.

The victim had been dead for days. The man had apparently undertaken to walk across the desert from San Felipe Creek to his ranch, but had died without sufficient food or water.

BURNING ECZEMA QUICKLY SPREAD

Started Like Ringworm on Hand—Hand Swelled and Then Humor Spread to Arms, Legs and Face—It was Something Terrible.

PRESCRIPTIONS FAILED; CUTICURA CURED HIM

"I have used the Cuticura Remedies for a very bad case of eczema with complete success. About fifteen or eighteen years ago the disease developed in the shape of a large pimple on the top of my hand. It burned and itched so much that I was compelled to show it to a doctor. He pronounced it ringworm, and made very light of it. He gave me a wash and told me to apply it before going to bed and all would be over in the morning. But the next morning my hand was all swollen up and I poulticed it. When the doctor came to his office I showed him the hand and to my surprise he told me that he had never experienced such a case in his practice and said it was well I poulticed it. After trying his different remedies the disease increased and went up my arms and finally to my thighs and legs generally and finally on my face. The burning was something terrible. After I had tried this doctor, as I thought, long enough, I went to another doctor who had the reputation of being the best in town. He told me to apply a bad case of eczema and that it would take quite a while to cure it. His medicine checked the advance of the disease but no further.

I finally concluded to try the Cuticura Remedies. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and found relief in the first trial. I continued until I was completely free from the disease and I have not been troubled with another attack since. I still use the Cuticura Ointment as my remedy for it is one of the best remedies to heal a sore or other injury rapidly. I can freely and truthfully say that the Cuticura Remedies are the best so far as my experience went with them and I am still recommending them, feeling sure I am not making a mistake. C. Burkhardt, 236 W. Market St., Chambersburg, Pa., Sept. 19, 1908."
